No intellectual property or other rights in and to the information and materials on this site are transferred to visitors to this site.

Permissions

You may not reproduce or distribute copies of materials found on this site (including, but not limited to text, logos, graphics, sounds or images) in any form (including by email or other electronic means), without prior permission from NES. Instead, we encourage you to tell others how to access the materials directly through this site. This policy does not, however, prohibit a person from emailing certain pages from this site to other persons where we have provided a link for that purpose.

Send requests for permission to reproduce or distribute materials found on this site to hsheriff@nespower.com.

In those cases, the personal information you provide, such as your name, address and NES account number, are used to provide the service you are requesting via that form.

Unless you have cookies "turned off" on your computer, when you visit nespower.com, your computer creates a cookie that is stored in its temporary memory. - Internet domain and IP address from which you access our site

This information is collected to help us analyze the traffic on our site and make appropriate improvements.

We do use persistent cookies on some online forms, such as My Account. These cookies allow information in certain form fields to be retained on your computer for your convenience so that you do not have to retype the information.

The email address you provide when enrolling for My Account is stored in a secure database. Your email address will not be sold to any entity outside of NES. It may, however, be used by NES for promotional email campaigns. The opportunity to opt-out is provided within your online profile preferences.

NES does not sell or provide personally identifiable information, including your name, address, phone number, account number or email address, to unaffiliated companies for commercial purposes. NES may, however, share personally identifiable information for legitimate business purposes, including without limitation, the following:
